

How to Understand a Property Tax Bill

This guide illustrates a typical Vermont property tax bill. The format varies from town to town, so your bill may not look exactly like this sample. The Vermont Department of Taxes uses data and terms common to all property tax bills. The intent of this guide is to show where requested information may be found.

- D Notice to forward the tax bill to the new owner(s) if the property is transferred after bill is received
- E The Housesite Tax Information box contents are used to calculate any state payments that are adjusted for income. The information is reportable on certain state tax forms, e.g. the IN-111 Income Tax Return, HS-122 Homestead Declaration, HI-144 Property Tax Adjustment, and LC-142 Landlord Certificate. Information commonly required by the Department of Taxes are the 11-digit SPAN and the three-digit School Code.

About the Education Tax

There are two education tax rates: "homestead" and "nonhomestead." Bills may show one or both rates. If you filed a Homestead Declaration (HS-122) this year and have no business or rental use, your bill will show only the homestead education rate. If you filed the HS-122 and you have business and/or rental use, your bill should show both the homestead and nonhomestead rates based on the relative percentage of homestead and business or rental use.

If the property is not your primary residence, you cannot declare it as your homestead. Your bill will show only the nonhomestead rate.

Notes on Exemptions

Contract exemptions are for special circumstances where a municipality reduces the value on a portion of property being used for a public purpose, or where other exemptions exist by state law. Some municipalities also have community-specific stabilization agreements.

The Veterans Property Exemption is available if you meet the criteria, by applying to the Vermont Office of Veterans Affairs. For information, see tax.vermont.gov/property-owners/understanding-property-taxes/property-tax-exemptions.

The Land Use Exemption is also known as Current Use. Information about Vermont's Current Use Program is at tax.vermont.gov/current-use.
