Vermont Land Gains Tax Return

General Information

When is a Land Gains Tax Return Required to be Filed?

The Land Gains Tax is a tax on the gain from the sale or exchange of Vermont land that was held for less than six years. The definition of land may include the sale of timber or timber rights. Anyone who sells Vermont land that was held by the Transferor (seller) for less than six years is required to file this return within 30 days of the sale to establish the amount of the Transferee's (buyer's) liability in the event the conditions for exemptions are not met.

Timber/Timber Rights

When the underlying land is sold separately from timber or timber rights and both sales occur within six years of the purchase, the gain on the sale of the timber or timber rights shall be combined with the gain or loss on the sale of the land to determine the Land Gains Tax liability. If the sale of the land occurs first, and the Land Gains Tax on the sale has become due, before the timber or timber rights are sold, the taxpayer shall recalculate and file an amended Land Gains Tax Return to include the gain or loss from the sale of timber and timber rights sold within six years of purchase. This rule shall apply if the underlying land is, or was, part of more than 300 acres of contiguous land owned by the same taxpayer. If the land is subject to, and in compliance with, a forest management plan approved under 32 V.S.A. § 3755(b) or 10 V.S.A. § 2623(2), neither timber, nor timber rights are taxable.

Exceptions to Filing Requirement

The Transferor is not required to file this return if the Transferee or Transferor claims one of the exemptions on the Property Transfer Tax Return. See Form PTT-172 instructions for Line E3.

Also exempt from filing are transfers of property to the State of Vermont or a municipality for a project that is authorized under the State's enacted transportation program or for an emergency project within the meaning of 19 V.S.A. § 10g(h), regardless of whether the State or the municipality has commenced any condemnation proceedings.

The transfer (but not the granting) of an option is considered a transfer of title to land. The sale or exchange of shares in a corporation or other entity is also considered a transfer of title to land if it effectively entitles a Transferee to use or occupy land. In the case of a contract for deed, enter the date consideration first passed to the Transferor under the contract. A mere promise to purchase land and payment of earnest money, or a deposit in escrow, to which the Transferor has no immediate right, does not constitute the passing of consideration.

A spouse who acquires property by reason of death or divorce may add to his or her holding period the period of time the property was held by the other spouse or by both spouses. The holding period of one spouse alone before the creation of a tenancy by the entirety may be added to the holding period of the tenancy by the entirety.

Consideration paid or to be paid, includes the amount of any liens on the property that are not removed at the time of transfer.

Section E Exemptions

Line E1 If you select an option other than "00 None," the exemption must also be claimed by the Transferee when they file Form LGT-177. Both parties must certify an exemption was claimed.

00 None

01 Transferee's Principal Residence Exemption: Sale of a dwelling and up to 10 acres of land which the Transferee will occupy within one year of purchase as their domiciled principal residence, or, if no dwelling exists, land on which the Transferee will construct and occupy a domiciled principal residence within two years from purchase. If local zoning requires more than 10 acres for residential property, then the acreage specified in the ordinance will be exempted up to a maximum of 25 acres. Principal residences can include multi-family and partial commercial properties as defined in 32 V.S.A. §10002a.

02 Transferor's Principal Residence Exemption: Sale of a dwelling and over 10 acres of land or if local zoning requires more for residential property than over the maximum of 25 acres allowed for exemption that was used by the Transferor as their domiciled principal residence. This exemption is claimed on this return only if a portion of the Transferor's domiciled principal residence is subject to tax. If the Transferor has claimed this exemption on the property transfer tax return form and the entire parcel is exempt, STOP. You are not required to file this return.

03 Builder's Exemption: Sale of up to 10 acres of land or if local zoning requires more than ten acres for residential property, the acreage specified in the ordinance will be exempted up to a maximum of 25 acres on which the Transferor (builder) must begin construction of a dwelling within one year. They must complete construction within two years, and sell the dwelling to a Transferee who will occupy it as their domiciled principal residence within three years of the date of closing. If the land is divided and sold as more than one parcel by the Transferor, each parcel must meet these conditions.

The Transferor must certify each phase of the exemption has been completed within the time allowed. A subsequent Property Transfer Tax Return showing that the property will be used by the Transferee as the Transferee's domiciled principal residence must be filed when each parcel is sold.

04 Agricultural Exemption A: Sale of agricultural land by a farmer to the farmer's grandparent, parent, step-parent, brother, sister, or child. The Transferee must use the land as agricultural land for a period of time which, when added to the time the land was used as agricultural land by the Transferor, equals or exceeds six years. To qualify as a farmer an individual must earn at least one-half of his or her gross annual income from the business of farming. Agricultural land must be at least 25 acres or produce an annual gross income of $2,000 from the sale of farm crops within three of the five preceding calendar years.

05 Agricultural Exemption B: Sale of up to 25 acres to a farmer (as defined in Exemption 04) for active and direct use by that farmer and which, upon transfer all acreage not actively being used by that farmer meets the definition of agricultural or forest land as defined in 32 V.S.A. § 3752. The acreage must continue to meet this definition for at least six years after the transfer.

06 Affordable Housing Exemption A: Transfer of land to an organization that qualifies under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and also meets the public support test of section 509(a)(2). To qualify, the organization must have included in their purpose statement that they will provide affordable housing. If the land will be held by the organization for six years or more following the sale, then one-half of the tax otherwise imposed is due. If the organization fails to hold the land for six years following the sale, the organization is liable for the remainder of the tax.

07 Affordable Housing Exemption B: Transfer of land to an organization that qualifies under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code and also meets the public support test of section 509(a)(2). No tax is due if the organization sells the land within 12 months of the transfer to a Transferee who qualified to purchase under an affordable housing program, and will occupy a dwelling on the land as their domiciled principal residence as required by 32 V.S.A. § 10002(b).

If the organization fails to transfer the land within 12 months to a qualified Transferee, the organization is liable for the tax due on the original transfer and the transfer by the organization.

If the land is transferred without a dwelling and the qualified Transferee fails to construct a domiciled principal residence dwelling within two years of purchase from the organization, the organization is liable for the tax on the first transfer and the Transferee is liable for the tax on the subsequent transfer.

If the land size in Section C of your return is more than 10 acres and the transfer does not include a building, multiply Line I3 by Line I4, then subtract the amount shown on Line I5.

If the land size is more than 10 acres and the transfer includes a building, multiply the value shown on Schedule LGT-179, Line A5 by Line I4, then subtract the amount on Line I5.

If you claimed the Affordable Housing Exemption A (Exemption 06), enter one-half of the tax normally due (see instructions for Line I5 above).
